

Health and Human Services

Who should consider the Health and Human Services field of study?

High school programs of study and career opportunities within the Health and Human Services field of study are particularly well suited for students who:

- √ Enjoy helping and working with people.
- √ Enjoy aiding, instructing, or protecting others.
- √ Tend to score high on Social or Service scales when taking interest inventories.
- √ Are curious about the role of service in our world.
- √ Are interested in education, employment, or activities after high school where they can use their social and helping talents and interests.

What available High School Programs of Study are related to this field of study?

The following available programs of study are related to this field of study area. For detailed information about these programs of study and how to build these into your High School and Beyond Plan, visit the Field of Study website at <http://humid.edmonds.wednet.edu/index.php/sturesources/fos>

- Culinary Arts and Services
- Early Childhood Education (KIDS)
- Fire Service Technology
- Law and Justice
- Healthcare Professions
- Mathematics and Science, Advanced
- Sign Language Interpreter
- Sports Medicine
- World Languages

What Occupations are related to this field of study?

The following is a sample of occupations related to this field of study area. For detailed information about these and other occupations related to this field of study area, visit the WOIS Career Information System at www.wois.org

A sample of occupations requiring less than 4 years of training after High School:

Animal Caretakers
Athletic Trainers
Chef
Child Care Workers
Correctional Officers
Dental Assistants
Dental Hygienists
EKG Technicians
Emergency Medical Technicians
Fire Fighters
Health Technicians and Technologists
Medical Laboratory Technicians
Law Enforcement Officers
Licensed Practical Nurses
Medical Assistants
Nursing Assistants
Pharmacy Technicians and Assistants
Registered Nurses
Sign Language Interpreters
Teacher Assistants
Fitness Instructors
Veterinary Technicians

A sample of occupations requiring 4 or more years of training after High School:

Chiropractors
Dentists
Dietitians
Education Administrators
Elementary Teachers
Health Therapists
Nurse Practitioners
Occupational Therapists
Kindergarten Teachers
Law Enforcement Officers
Librarians
Mental Health Counselors
Optometrists
Pharmacists
Physicians
Physical Therapists
Psychologists
Registered Nurses
Secondary Teachers
Special Education Teachers
University and College Teachers
Veterinarians

